Re: Infection Control

The Dentists and staff of our practice are working very hard to protect our patients and ourselves from the spread of infection. As you already know, we learn more and more about the prevention of the transmission of infectious disease such as AIDS, hepatitis, and tuberculosis; we have upgraded our infection control practices to insure the safety of our patients and staff.

OSHA has mandated very strict guidelines for prevention of infection transmission in the dental office. We work very hard to comply with these regulations. You will notice we are using disposable supplies whenever possible; we are wearing facemasks, safety glasses and gloves and we follow the strictest sterilization and disinfection practices. In addition, we use the ultrasonic pre-soak and heat pressure method of sterilization for instrument and hand pieces. We are proud of our achievements in this area.

We are strongly committed to delivering the best treatment in the safest possible facility. It is your right to be protected against all preventable risks.

We welcome your input and encourage you to feel free to discuss this matter. Please let us know if we can provide further information or assistance.

Thank you,

The Dentists and Staff of Smart Dental
